CONDITIONS OF SALE

Our garden is STATE INSPECTED and we guarantee all plants to be true to name, in healthy condition and proper grade when leaving our hands.

Our responsibility is limited to the initial cost of plants involved and all claims must be made within five (5) days after receipt of plants.

Prices quoted are at our garden unless otherwise specified. All orders of $5.00 or more are prepaid in the U.S.A. On orders less than $5.00, add 50c for packing and postage.

Terms: Cash with order unless otherwise arranged in advance. Please make 25% deposit when booking orders for future delivery.

Our supply of some plants is limited and orders are accepted in the order received and subject to prior sale. Refunds, of course, will be made in case we are unable to ship.

EXTRA SPECIAL

You will be glad to know that Caroline Dormon's new book, "Wild Flowers of the South", will probably be ready for distribution by the time this reaches you. It is being published by Horace McFarland & Company. Mail your orders to Claitor's Book Store, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Miss Dormon's first book, "Wild Flowers of Louisiana", is now a collector's item. In her new book the scope has been extended. Wild flowers of the South (instead of just Louisiana) will be described and illustrated by Caroline's own drawings, many of them in full color.

Price: $7.50

Foreword

There are two reasons for our mailing to you a preliminary price list for day lilies and Louisiana native iris:

In the first place, we haven't had one since 1955; and we don't want our old friends to forget us, even if our garden is still a hobby.

The big reason is that it's getting close to May 14th, when "Hem" fans will be trekking to Houston for our annual review of progress and especially for plans for the future. We hope this list will remind "Hem" fans that, for most of them, our garden and a number of others will be en route to Houston.

Without some sort of catastrophe, we should have something worthwhile for you to see at the House O' Macs in Abbeville. Thousands of new seedlings should be in bloom. Also, as you will note from the list, we have acquired many of the finest recent introductions, and whether you want to buy or not, we will be happy to have you visit with us.

All daylily fans know that Baton Rouge has many leading producers and growers. New Orleans has a number of fine gardens. We are especially fond of Mrs. Dave Clark's collection; and if you haven't seen them, it will be well worth your time.

In our opinion, one of the most complete and most modern collections anywhere is at Lafayette in the C. G. Simon garden. From Lafayette it's only 20 miles to Abbeville, and you will lose very little, if any, mileage on the way to Houston by going from Abbeville to Kaplan, Gueydan, to Midland on a new concrete highway, then on Highway 90 to Iowa, where we understand Mrs. Spalding is producing some wonderful seedlings.

LOUISIANA NATIVE IRISES

Many new native seedlings are now in bloom. We will be registering some new ones after the bloom season is finished and will, at that time, publish our list of new introductions. We have only two ready as this goes to press.

INTRODUCTIONS

1958

MISTIS (MacM - '57) A huge pink to lavender bloom, beautiful carriage on strong bloom stalk. It ushers in the iris season with practically the earliest bloom. It was the winner of the 1958 Captain Stuart Abbott Award. Stock limited. $ 5.00

SWAMP ANGEL (MacM - '58) We have waited years to develop an iris worthy of the name "Swamp Angel", taken from Ray Cornay's now famous "Swamp Angel" fabrication; medium large bloom with near white standards edged and veined pink; broad falls of Rhodonite Pink lined with deeper pink; the golden crest is diffused through the falls; a lucky cross from two of our best numbered seedlings. 5.00
